Internal Revenue Service Questions and Answers

Q. Is it all right for a landlord to evict a tenant in retaliation for protesting an increase, as long as he waits two or three months after the tenant files his complaint before evicting him?

A. No. Economic Stabilization regulations prohibit retaliatory evictions under any circumstances. It is illegal for a landlord to evict a tenant for complaining of a rent increase, whether the eviction occurs days or months after a tenant's complaint.

Q. The school district I live in has been required by the state to increase the salaries of members of the school board. The board has only 10 employees. May this increase be granted without regard to the 5.5 percent standard?

A. No. Under new Economic Stabilization regulations, the States must promptly file the Board and obtain approval of any adjustments which require local government units to implement.

Q. Do you have a booklet that explains how a business computes allowable tax increases?

A. Yes. IRS Publication S-308, "Rules for Computing Pay Adjustments," explains the limitations on wage and salary increases and the exclusions from adjustment.

Q. The water rates in my county were recently increased. Can my landlord pass on this increase to me in the form of higher rent?

A. Yes. An increase in state and local fees, levies and other charges for municipal services, except for gas and electricity, is an allowable cost under the Commission regulations, justifying a rent increase. For more information, see IRS Publication S-309, "Rent Guidelines." It is available at no charge by dropping a postcard to your Internal Revenue district office.

Q. In computing their base price and markup on new cars, may dealers use the sticker price as the actual sales price of the new model?

A. In a trade-in situation, car dealers may not use the sticker price to arrive at the actual sales price of a new model. Instead, the actual sales price of a new car is the amount of the buyers cash liability plus the wholesale value of the trade-in as shown in used car valuation books in general use by automobile dealers.

Q. My landlord is seeking a ruling that a portion of my high rise is exempt from controls because construction on it was supposedly completed after Aug. 15, 1971. Can I see that ruling when he gets it?

A. Yes. A landlord served with an interpretation or a ruling concerning a rent adjustment, must immediately notify affected tenants of the nature of the decision, the date of its issuance, and when and where it can be inspected. This notification must be made within 30 days on a public bulletin board located in the building in which the tenants reside or the landlord may mail or hand deliver the notification to affected tenants.

LET'S HAVE A BETTER DEAL

It is most improbable that contending parties can come to a fair decision when the cards are stacked. However, this is the case in management-labor relations when Congress permits strikers to qualify for food stamps.

Recently the House rejected an amendment to an appropriation bill which would have denied food stamps for the duration of a strike to a household which needs assistance only because a member of the household is a participant in a strike.

Thus, every taxpayer is forced to help support strikers through stamp subsidies, which, in turn, encourage them to hold out for bigger settlements in management.

This economic weapon through the balance of negotiating power to the union leadership by stifling any back-to-work movement based on economic need and it handicaps management in its efforts to come to a fair and reasonable settlement. Collective bargaining works in the best interests of the workers, employers, and the public when both sides are evenly balanced. But the $329 million in estimated food stamp costs for strikers during the coming year can only lead to unjustified wage increases, prolonged strikes, inflation, and higher taxes.

social security QUIZ

A. No. he's earning too much money a year and can't get monthly retirement checks.

B. No, he needs only contact social security when he becomes 72.

D. Yes, he's eligible for monthly retirement checks and Medicare.

Q. I am confused about when to file for social security disability benefits. I have heard about both a 6-month and a 12-month waiting period. Can you explain which is correct?

A. You should file an application for benefits as soon as it is determined that you are likely to be disabled for a year or longer.

The 6-month period is the waiting period. You can file your application during this period, but no monthly payments can be made for the first 6 full calendar months of disability.

The 12-month period refers to the expected duration of the disability.

Your November 2, 1972 Elba Clipper reached me today - It seems a week to come from Elba to Huntsville is just too long - News is no longer news in a week's time - I've subscribed for the paper almost all of the 15 years since I left Elba but I received it for years on Saturday, at least, following the Thursday date, lately, it gets later each week. Something is wrong. I'd like to see the paper more often.

Many things are wrought by prayer. Those who have a deep faith do not hesitate to call upon their Heavenly Father for His help. I am sure that this election many issues and candidates were steeped in prayer. Please let us be strong for each other in God's Word. It is a means of communion with God that no one can deny another. It can be practiced anywhere and at anytime. Surely many prayers have been lifted to God during the past weeks and now we should be grateful to Him.

Not only have many prayed but many have given time, talent, and money for this cause and for other worthy causes. In this election many prayers have been lifted to God during the past weeks and now we should be grateful to Him.

I hear from Mrs. Cox and Annie Lou all along but haven't heard recently. Plan to write a letter very soon to them.

favor of the bill. One of the two major national political parties committed to its platform to oppose excessive busing. A vast majority of the people of the United States supported legislative curbs upon excessive busing of their children. And a substantial majority of Senators showed their support of the bill.

Although opponents to the bill were able to keep us from getting a vote on the bill, the fact that the bill is still in the Senate is a victory.

Even a growing majority of the Senate voted 49 to 38 in our favor but not being the required 2/3 to stop the filibuster.

While those opposing the anti-busing bill may contest our claims of a moral victory, there is no way for them to avoid obvious facts. Back in August, when I first explained to the Senate my intention of keeping the House-passed bill from going to an unfriendly Senate Committee, which would have killed it, I was met with skepticism.

At that time, I was told, "It's not done. But it was done, 19 years ago, longer and longer, and it was a victory."

man people in the solution of our common problems.

Many people do not have a very high regard for the American farmer. Maybe these people need to take a second look. I feel that America is a great nation today because of the efforts of the American farmer. When man first came into existence he hunted for his food. As time progressed he began to raise his food and finally we have reached the point that one farmer feeds himself and many others.

In 1948 for example, one farmer fed himself and eleven other people. Today one farmer feeds himself and forty-eight other people. These eighty-eight other people are free to perform other jobs and responsibilities. They may be doctors, lawyers, engineers, etc., but whatever they do improves the standard of living. The American farmer is by far the most efficient of the world's farmers. He releases more people to do other things than any of the other farmers of the world. For this reason, I feel that America has progressed into the great nation that it is today.

prices that you pay in the grocery store. Stop again and consider the facts. In 1948, 24.6 percent of a man's income went to buy food for the family. Today it takes only 16.5 percent of a man's income to buy food. Another fact is that about twenty percent of the items purchased in the grocery store are not food items. These include paper products, cleaning agents, drugs, etc. Today's 16.5 percent also buys many more services such as cleaning, pre-cooking, trimming, freezing, etc.

Consider now what food in America cost when compared to another country. The average American worker works six minutes to buy a loaf of bread. This same loaf of bread requires eleven minutes of work in France, twelve minutes in Russia, and forty-six minutes of work in Brazil.

So instead of complaining, we should be thankful the American farmer is as efficient as he is. If this nation is to hold the basis for its future greatness each generation must preserve and enhance the soil resources for use of generations to come.

By now you are probably thinking about the "high" food prices that you pay in the grocery store. Stop again and consider the facts. In 1948, 24.6 percent of a man's income went to buy food for the family. Today it takes only 16.5 percent of a man's income to buy food. Another fact is that about twenty percent of the items purchased in the grocery store are not food items. These include paper products, cleaning agents, drugs, etc. Today's 16.5 percent also buys many more services such as cleaning, pre-cooking, trimming, freezing, etc.

Consider now what food in America cost when compared to another country. The average American worker works six minutes to buy a loaf of bread. This same loaf of bread requires eleven minutes of work in France, twelve minutes in Russia, and forty-six minutes of work in Brazil.

Beta Club Holds Meeting

Wednesday, November 8th, was the regular meeting day of the Elba High School Beta Club. The nature of the meeting being as it was, the French club and all interested juniors and seniors were invited to attend.

Bookmobile Is 'Uptown' Library

The bookmobile is the "uptown" library for many of the people of the Cross Trails Regional library area. Cross Trails has two of these educational wagons. One of the bookmobiles serve Coffee and Geneva Counties and the other serves Covington, Crenshaw, and Crenshaw Counties. County commissions of the respective counties fund the project.

Response to the service is excellent as shown by circulation records. During the month of October the bookmobile in Coffee and Geneva counties circulated 92,994 books and Covington and Crenshaw had a circulation of 197,709.

Friends of the regional library services are invited to tell their County Commission members that they approve of the library. Commissioners like to know that they are spending taxes wisely.

needs our collective best effort. Alvin Toffler, writing in Future Shock, says, "It is not simply that we do not know what our goals are, but that the trouble lies deeper. For accelerating change has made obsolete the methods by which we arrive at social goals. The technocrats do not yet understand this, and reacting to the goals crisis in knee-jerk fashion, they reach for the tried and true methods of the past. We have taught ourselves to create and combine the most powerful of technologies. We have taken pains to learn about their consequences. Today these consequences threaten to destroy us. We must learn, and learn fast."

It makes sense to define the problem first. It makes sense to apply management standards to social programs. It makes sense to view problems and frustrations on the job as extensions of problems at home. It makes sense to deal with these issues in the context of the total environment of the employee. Finally, it makes sense to plan carefully. A complex social problem

Marching Tigers Attend First Contest Of The Season

The Marching Tigers attended their first contest of the season this past Saturday, November 4. Anyone who attended can honestly say they have never seen anything like it. For weeks beforehand we had spent long hours of practice, the ones who cared working out every afternoon sweaty, sore, but happy and confident.

Then Friday we played Troy our halftime show was as near to perfection as could be expected. Charles Henderson's band was in the best shape they had been in years, but we still pretty well stifled them.

That Saturday morning, the band met at the bandroom, nervous but happy as all get-out. The first-year kids were sorta shaky, but some of us veterans of four other marching contests were quite calm. We were at hand by 10.

The weather couldn't have been better. The sky was slightly overcast, the air was cool, and a brisk breeze was blowing. We had one of the best single practices I can remember, ate the sandwiches and cookies that the mothers had so thoughtfully prepared and got our little pep talk and devotion. Mr. Maddox had faith in us, we in him, there was a mutual bond of love between us all. It was really good.

We kidnapped some of the Pep Club and Crenshaw and Covington. We circled the square in a parade, and then we were met by a police escort blowing its horn and sirens, and we were in the windows. A very fitting exit from Elba before our return that night. Each bus was crammed with band members all ready to get out and lick the world. It was unbelievable, how much we were psyched up.

Busses especially the heaps we rode on, weren't intended as changing rooms. Putting on a heavy complicated band uniform in the cold, at the same time staying clean is a miracle of our modern times. Nevertheless, I could have done it. But it did. After all the other scores had been announced, we loaded the busses, broken hearted and came home to our Elba.

This may sound like the end of the story, but actually it's just the beginning. We may have scored mostly tops, but we still aren't Number one. Number One, that is if a few things remain the same. If we remain the same if we have a director like Mr. Maddox, it is unbelievable how utterly blank, with no thoughts, no emotions, nothing. Our name was announced, and we did not know it. All was beautiful, but there was a bluish tint to the sheet. Toward the end of the downfield march, we got awfully shaky for a few moments. Until the end of the time question of whose fault it was will remain unanswered.

Those of us who knew of it were terribly anxious the rest of the day, but still, we were extremely confident.

The remainder of the time was spent eating, drinking, and freezing. In the meantime, the ten hour halftime show continued. The sun disappeared, and the temperature seemingly dropped to sub-zero levels. All of us talented amateurs judged the bands we saw.

The Troy State University band performed their usual excellent show, and the announcement came over the P. A. system for the bands representatives to the other side of the field.

The scores being called out before ours were sickening. Fours, fives and some that were so bad they didn't even score caused moans from the whole stadium.

Mr. Maddox had told us wait until all the scores had been called out before we cheered. That way, it would show the band had performed as a team, instead of four separate parts. So when the announcer called out "Elba Drum Major!" a scream that began was cut off by our great director.

And then the unbelievable happened. The announcer continued on coldly, "Color Guard 2, Band - 2.2.2 for a 2, and majorettes 2."

As long as I live, I'll never forget the look on the peoples faces. There was complete, endless silence. There is no way humanly possible to describe the universal hurt we felt. It was so inconceivable that we were shocked speechless. It just wasn't right, wasn't fair. I know this will sound silly, but we all cried. To say we were the Marching Tigers, could make a two had been suggested but no one believed I could happen. But it did. After all the other scores had been announced, we loaded the busses, broken hearted and came home to our Elba.

To say we were the Marching Tigers, could make a two had been suggested but no one believed I could happen. But it did. After all the other scores had been announced, we loaded the busses, broken hearted and came home to our Elba.

This may sound like the end of the story, but actually it's just the beginning. We may have scored mostly tops, but we still aren't Number one. Number One, that is if a few things remain the same. If we remain the same if we have a director like Mr. Maddox, it is unbelievable how utterly blank, with no thoughts,

It has been stressed before every performance in the devotion that "let's do this for the Lord". Praise the Lord He is always with us, even when we make two. It's His will, because we always do the show for His glory, not ours.

With a team like that, we can't be anything except Number One. These two were really a blessing - they have drawn us together even closer. Predictions can be dangerous, but I'll bet dollars to doughnuts that Mr. Maddox and his band can do great things undreamed of before now. All it takes is some caring and a lotta love. That's some stuff, we've got plenty of. To Mr. Martin, Esq.

NUTRITION A LA CARTE

• Did you know that yogurt has the same food value as the milk it's made from? Generally, yogurt is made from partially skimmed milk with added nonfat dry milk. Pasteurized and homogenized, yogurt is a custard-like smooth product with a tangy flavor. Its calorie range is from 120 to 160 calories per cup.

• Here's a bit of history. Welsh rabbit is the correct name for the cheese dish that was first made, so it is said, by a Welsh Chieftain. Called upon to entertain a few hundred unexpected guests, the chieftain had his cooks substitute a cheese dish for rabbit, the game customarily served for such occasions.

• Eating out is becoming more and more popular and in many instances, necessary. At least 50 percent of Americans go out for breakfast once a month or more. About 65 percent enjoy a restaurant lunch at least monthly. And some 50 percent of us have dinner in a restaurant at least once a month.

• Exercise is an important part of any weight control program. Burning up some of those calories in wholesome outdoor activity allows you to eat a more satisfying amount of food. Remember:

too, a sound reducing diet includes food from the meat group, the milk group, fruits and vegetables, enriched and whole grain breads and cereals.

• Is there a relationship between good nutrition and mental development? Research in developing countries indicates there is. Undernourished children suffer permanent physical and psychological damage. Authorities believe that more than 500 million children around the world are in this category today.

• Why do we need water? All of the body's chemical processes take place in solution. Thus, water is essential. Some of the water your body uses each day must be replaced because of water excretion. Several pints a day are used up by your kidneys, bowels, perspiration, and exhaled breath.

• If you live alone it is easy to fall into the habit of not eating properly. The temptation is to prepare many of the same things day after day. You should, instead, purposely vary your foods, both for changes in taste appeal and to be more sure that you are getting a wide variety of nutrients. There's plenty to choose from in the four food groups.

Class of '42 Comes To Town

Approximately 40 members of the 1942 graduating class of Elba High School made their way back to their home town and Alma Mater last week-end to take part in the EHS Homecoming Activities. From their homes in Amite, Louisiana; Austin, Texas; Knoxville, Tennessee; Orlando, Florida; and Greenville, South Carolina they came, as well as from their homes right here in Elba: 14 members of the class live in Elba and on Elba routes.

This was the largest class ever to return to Elba.

Also, Mrs. Gayle Stephens, who works with the Bloodmobile, is compiling records of blood donors from Elba. She says, however, that the file is only partially complete at this time, with the records she has available, but is being brought up from 1967.

If you would like to know how much blood you have given since that time, and need to have your blood donor card brought up to date, you may check with Mrs. Stephens at the Bloodmobile on Friday.

The Zion Chapel Senior Girls' 4-H Club met November 9, 1972. The meeting was called to order by our President, Cindy Wilson. The group sang a song led by Anita Burch and Wana Whittington. Devotional was led by Barbara Zieff. After the devotional the minutes were read and approved. They then went into the program for the day.

The program was about "Hair Fashions." Shapes of the face and the hair styles to suit each type of face was discussed. Hints for the Dream Girl's Hair were discussed also.

The meeting was then adjourned until next month.

others, and many other names that have not been mentioned. However, these names did not go unnoticed on Friday nights during a very memorable year of Tiger football.

As for our stay in Valdosta, so far it has been a unique experience. The PGA Winter Series of ten tournaments will all be played on one course at Francis Lake Golf Club, and it looks as if it will take us that long to master this track. So far no one has scored better than 68 (four under par) in practice rounds, and our field is supposedly very strong. It ranges from former PGA tour players to rookie assistants at clubs from all over the nation. Although the tournaments have yet to get underway, it looks as if the course and the schedule will favor the players who are physically and mentally strongest. As for a typical day, maybe you could say its twelve hours of eating and sleeping and twelve hours of you guessed it, golf.

Of course, these are only a few of the reasons Elba is a instead of 3-5. There are

As for how this football team won nine games with the potential of a possible losing season, the reasons are many. A big one was the subject mentioned above, but that's not all. Coaching of a high school team cannot be done by one man alone, and assistant coaches are important also. Experienced assistants? No we didn't have that either. What we had were two fellows named Paul Bass and Paul Sawyer with virtually no experience. They took over as veterans in their profession would have done, and did a superb job of teaching fundamentals. This has to be "another very important

Poll Hereford Fall Sale Set In Dothan

Twenty-five graded bulls, ready to go to work improving the quality of area beef herds, will headline the offering at the Wiregrass Polled Hereford Association's big Fall Sale in Dothan December 9. Forty females, including a dozen or more with calves, will also be sold.

The annual event will be held at the W. G. Bond farm, about 7 miles west of Dothan in Bay Springs Community. The sale barn is opposite Bay Springs Church, one and one-half miles South of U. S. 84. Visitors are instructed to look for the sign at James Lee's store.

Fourteen leading breeder herds in Alabama, Florida and Georgia are listed as consignors.

All bulls will be graded the morning of the sale by Dr. Richard Deese, Auburn University, and will sell in order of grade. Wiregrass Association officials point out that the opportunity to buy 25 graded purebred Polled Hereford bulls at auction in this area comes very rarely.

"We feel that our select bulls and females are qualified to go into anybody's herd and make money for their buyers."

Dr. Kimmey Is Named To Academy

John M. Kimmey, M.D., of Elba, has been named a fellow of the American Academy of Family Physicians.

The degree of fellowship is an acknowledgment of successful completion of 600 or more hours of accredited continuing medical study, or attainment of diploma status in the specialty of family medicine as a result of passing a certification examination administered under the aegis of the American Board of Family Practice.

State Troopers Check Accidents

The Alabama State Troopers investigated 249 rural traffic accidents with 89 injuries and 14 fatalities from 6:00 p.m. Friday through 12 M.N. Sunday.

The fatalities occurred, 2 each in Russell, Morgan and Colbert, and 1 each in Lee, Chocoma, Barbour, Jackson, Baldwin, Butler, Calhoun and Dallas Counties.

The Dothan District Troopers investigated 21 accidents with 5 injuries and 1 fatality during the weekend period. The Dothan District has 60 fatalities so far this year as compared with 76 at this same time last year.

Coffee County Troopers investigated 1 accident this weekend with no injuries and no fatalities. So far this year, 9 persons have been killed in motor vehicle traffic accidents in this county as compared with 8 killed during the same period last year.

GI's Offered School Help

GI Bill students with academic problems can get Veterans Administration financial tutoring more easily under the provisions of a law that became effective October 22.

The new law (PL 92-540), which also increased educational benefits, removed the requirement that a student must be failing a course to be eligible for a VA-paid tutor. It also made tutoring available for the first time to wives, widows and children studying under the agency's Dependents Educational Assistance program.

Tutorial assistance first became available in March 1970 under Public Law 91-219. It was designed for veterans and servicemen studying on a half-time or more basis at post-secondary level who needed help in passing courses essential to their programs of education.

For this help, VA paid tutors up to $50 for each month or portion of a month they tutored, up to a maximum of nine months.

Under the new law, however, VA pays tutors for the actual time they tutor up to a maximum of $50 a month. This tends to "stretch" tutorial benefits which eligible persons may continue to use until a total of $50 is exhausted.

Neither law chawrote tutorial assistance against the veteran's basic educational entitlement earned during military service. VA officials pointed out.

Public Houses Planned

The Elba Housing Authority is currently advertising for fifty units of leased housing. According to housing authority officials, the Authority and the Housing and Urban Development (HUD) will first give provisional approval on sites on December 14. Then of those proposals will be accepted for the actual construction of the city housing units. These will be opened on January 16 at 2 p.m.

These housing units will be owned by the developer and leased to the housing authority for a specified number of years. Under this plan the Housing Authority collects the rent money, maintains the buildings and pays the owner a pre-arranged monthly lease on a long term lease.

Bookmobile Still Gets County Funds

This newspaper has received several reports that the Coffee County Commissioners had cut off funds to the Cross Trails Regional Library Bookmobile. A check with several of the commissioners shed no light on the puzzle and finally on Tuesday of this week, Commissioner Floumy Whitman tracked down the rumor and the reason for it being spread.

It is reported elsewhere on this page that President Nixon visited the Cross Trails Regional Library Bookmobile, Enterprise City Hall and continued down Main Street.

The inauguration of Christmas carols will be centered around the Bull Weevil Monument immediately following the parade.

Various downtown merchants will be offering Christmas specials between the hours of 6 and 10 p.m. Shoppers will be urged to register all day for prizes and gift certificates to be given away.

Christmas Show Set By Florist

The Elba Florist is announcing in this issue of the Elba Clipper their annual Christmas Show to be held this Sunday. They promise this year's events to be bigger and better, with new arrangements, Christmas colors and also a greater variety.

ELBA PTA IS FORMED

With a handful of parents and school officials present, on Monday night, November 20, a PTA for the Elba School system was set in motion.

By being organized as a parent-teacher organization, this group will be affiliated with the State and National PTAs.

Membership dues of $1.00 are asked for each person. Of this amount, 10¢ goes to the State PTA, and 20¢ to the National PTA. The remainder of 70¢ from each dollar stays in the local PTA to be used in its treasury.

The officers and others present urge all parents and teachers to join and participate in the PTA. They hope to build a work on needed projects for the schools, bring topics of interest before the group, and create a bond of cooperation and mutual goals between parents and teachers.

The next meeting is scheduled for January, 1973, exact date will be published before that time. In the meantime, a committee appointed by the President will study and formulate by-laws and procedures for the PTA and report such at the next meeting.

Cross Trails Regional Library got the expected bad news on Wednesday, President Nixon's veto of the H.E.W. education and library legislation took $13,765,841 from Cross Trails' library budget. The library received $27,522,841 in federal funds last year and will receive $13,767 this year, a cut of 50%. Hopefully revenue sharing funds through the counties can make up the lost funds.

VAUGHAN IS APPOINTED BY CITY COUNCIL

The Elba City Council held its regular meeting on Tuesday night of this week and discussed a wide variety of subjects, including trash pick-up, airport expansion, sewage system problems, federal grant money for police cars, imposing a use tax in Elba, uniforms for city employees and rising electric rates, none of which any action was taken.

The Council, with all members present, appointed Glen Vaughan to the Elba Housing Authority for a five year term. The position is a non-paying position.

The Council instructed City Clerk Tom Dyess to send out bid request for the purchase of a new garbage truck, one with either a 20 or 25 cubic yard packer unit.

Also approved was a motion for the city clerk to request bids on a new police car.
